

PROTECTING OUR CENTRAL COAST ENVIRONMENT

REP. CARBAJAL IS WORKING HARD TO COMBAT THE CLIMATE CRISIS, PROMOTE RENEWABLE ENERGY, AND PRESERVE THE NATURAL BEAUTY OF CALIFORNIA'S COAST

OUTLAWING OFFSHORE DRILLING

Congressman Carbajal's very first bill in Congress was the California Clean Coast Act to permanently prohibit future oil and gas leasing off the coast of the entire state of California – simultaneously protecting our coastal ecosystems and spurring the transition from fossil fuels to clean energy.

PROTECTING CALIFORNIA'S NATURAL BEAUTY

Congressman Carbajal worked with local leaders & federal agencies to get the Chumash Heritage National Marine Sanctuary into the designation phase.

He's also the lead sponsor of the Central Coast Heritage Protection Act, which would make 250,000 acres in Los Padres National Forest & Carrizo Plain protected wilderness areas.

SUPPORTING OUR CLEAN ENERGY TRANSITION

Congressman Carbajal has supported measures that will invest in transitioning California to clean, renewable energy.

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Law that he supported invests in expanded EV charging stations, low and zero emission transit, and capping abandoned oil wells.

Congressman Carbajal is also working with local and federal agencies to create California's first offshore wind project off the coast of Morro Bay.

PROMOTING CLIMATE RESILIENCY

Congressman Carbajal has worked across the aisle to promote increased investments in wildfire prevention, clean drinking water systems, and resiliency programs to protect communities against the threats of changing weather patterns.

He has also fought to get the Department of Defense to consider climate change a risk to our national security.
